QUWF® Opens On-Site Shooting / Training Range

Buffalo, MO: “QUWF understands the importance of our shooting sports, the hunting heritage and getting our youth and young at heart involved” states Craig Alderman of QUWF. “The best part, the new range and support for it, have come from our sponsors so there was very little support needed by QUWF financially. There is no financial burden for our chapters, members, or the company” Alderman emphasizes.

“Thanks to great relationships with our sponsors who see the need of investing in projects like this; Voss Sign, who helped develop the portable range idea, Ruger Firearms who provided range firearms in both semi-automatic and revolver configurations, Remington and Ruger who have supported our Law Enforcement outreach, ATLAS traps for the clay thrower, and the patience of my family as I created wooden target stands in the woodshop and built the range” Craig explains. The wooden target frame plans are being featured in the next Habitat newsletter, are inexpensive to build and work great. The range is also set up for up to 400 yard rifle practice.

“The QUWF Range has already provided, and continues to provide, firearm qualification training for dozens of Law Enforcement personnel, put on its first Missouri Concealed Carry course for the general public and is planning the first general youth event shoots” says Craig “We are blessed in having our office in the country setting, great sponsors who see the need at the local level and think out of the box to help us promote our industry NOW”. The next several classes offered by QUWF have booked full.

QUWF has a qualified Law Enforcement Instructor on staff which allows them to provide Missouri Concealed Carry classes and instruction in pistols and recreational shotguns. The QUWF office meeting area provides a quiet class atmosphere for a quality learning experience. “We made this a personal investment to grow our industry, involve more youth and people in the fun and enjoyment of the shooting sports in a location dedicated to wildlife habitat conservation all around you, that is who QUWF is” Craig Emphasizes.

As of June 2013, QUWF™ and its local chapters and members have impacted 1.8 million acres of wildlife habitat and its chapters spent $107 Million Dollars in their local communities. That is “Turnin-the-Dirt™”.

Quail and Upland Wildlife Federation, Inc.®, a tax exempt 501(c)(3) conservation organization, serves its members and chapters nationwide, providing a strong local source of habitat focus on quail and upland wildlife and population recovery. Millions of dollars of habitat work have been completed by its members over the years on millions of acres of both private and public lands, that work continues with a renewed vitality. Our chapters from coast to coast, provide the grass roots, local habitat work that is making a difference each and every day.
